Students Response & Scope for other Skill Development

Students response for all the co-curricular activities were good and excellent. Most of them came forward by themselves to participate in the competitions or the events. We could see the positive attitude of the students during their participation.

We the student teachers could see the interest and enthusiasm to take part in the competition. This positive response of the student will help them in future as it will help in them in developing with various skills like communication skill, language skill, motor skills, Intellectual ability etc. by developing a student overall.

Selection & Planning of Co-curricular Activity

Co-curricular activities are an important part of a child's school life. The seven key elements are reformed across of study co-curricular activity.

- 1) Leadership
- 2) Communication
- 3) Performance
- 4) Creativity
- 5) Decision making
- 6) Co-operation
- 7) Service

To achieve objectives of education we should give full justice to the student. We should plan the things in a way to other to large no of students. Students should be given choice to select the activities of their interest. Aims and objectives of doing it should be informed.

Teaching-Learning Process.

A Guest lecture on "Impact of Media on Teaching Learning Process" is organised by the college. Dr. Daundkar Kailas is invited as Media resource person for the lecture. The use of media to enhance teaching and learning complements traditional approaches to learning. Using media engages students, aids student retention of knowledge, motivates interest in the subject matter, and illustrates the relevance of many concepts.

Introduction

In the school curriculum transaction is the major function along with these are the lots of records of the concern to be kept by the school office. They have to keep various records to run a school. As a teacher we should know about this regards the method of maintaining the records.

We visited the school section and higher section school, Administration office and school. We observe the various records of the school in the office and write report on it.

Objective

1. To make a project report on the records.
2. To know about administration records of a week of the concerned.

3. To know about the various types of school records.

4. To know about the various of the registers of school records.

5. To know about how to maintain records and files of the school.

Planning

1. we took observation and listen the explanation of clerk about the maintaining various records and how they are important for school.

2. we took permission by authorities of the school before visiting the records.

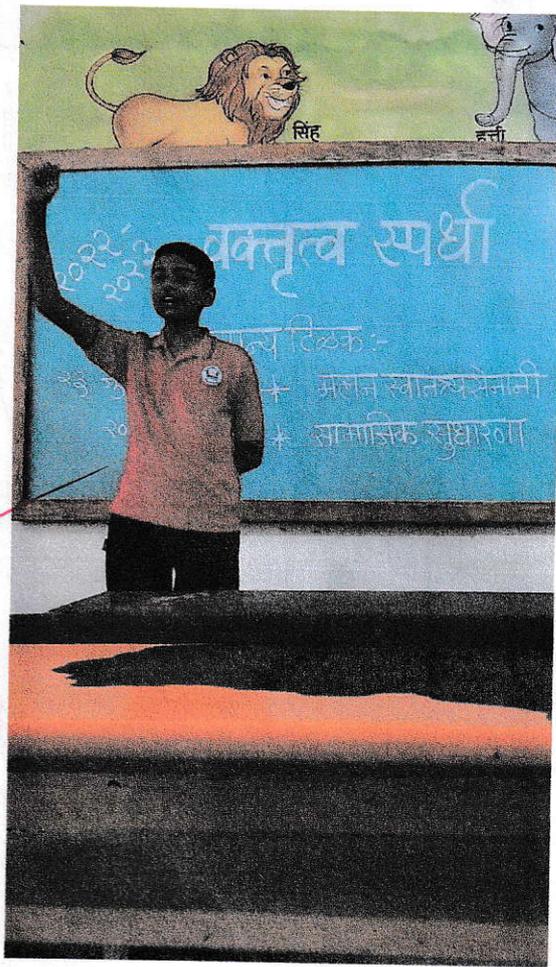

3. we took permission of principal before visiting the record room.

4. Interacted with the principal and clerk before observation of the school records.
